

	Card Name	Word	Interpretation
1	The Rooster (El gallo)	Wake Up!	This card instructs the recipient to "awake up and pay attention." This is a general warning. The recipient is being naïve and needs to pay attention to surroundings or a situation.
2	The Little Devil (El diablito)	Trouble	This card can indicate a person or situation. Either one it is bad news with a capital "T".
3	The Lady (La dama)	Woman	This card generally represents a specific woman known to the recipient. It can also be used as a designator card.
4	The Dandy (El catrín)	Man	This card generally represents a specific man known to the recipient. It can also be used as a designator card.
5	The Umbrella (El paraguas)	Protection	This card indicates that protection is available or is being given. The form of protection can vary based upon what type is needed.
6	The Mermaid (La sirena)	Seduction	This card indicates that there is some form of seduction. It may be a person, but it can also mean a company, situation, or advertisement. It may be romantic, but it can be a con game.
7	The Ladder (La escalera)	Up or Down	This card indicates a movement up or down, increase or decrease, improvement or decline. In tableau readings it can connect the card above to the card below this card.
8	The Bottle (La botella)	Small Container	This card indicates something in a bottle or in a small container. It does not necessarily mean a bottle, but can be a box, package, or any small container.
9	The Barrel (El barril)	Large Container	This card may indicate a barrel, but more often something or someone in a large contained space. Expand your definition to include a closet, cubicle, room, or small apartment. May indicate a coffin if next to the Death card.
10	The Tree (El árbol)	Family	This card indicates the family tree. While it may indicate a family unit, it more often indicates an extended family connection. Think grandparents, cousins, aunts/uncles, or in-laws
11	The Melon (El melon)	Small Business	This card represents a small business. It can be one run by the recipient or frequented by the recipient. Think of a small office or shop. It could be the recipient's job or place of business.
12	The Brave One (El valiente)	Bravery	This card often indicates a brave person. This may be a fireman, police, soldier, doctor, or good samaritan. It can indicate that this situation requires bravery and that the recipient needs to step up and be brave.
13	The Bonnet (El Gorrito)	Child	This card generally represents a child or young person known to the recipient. It can be used as a designator card.
14	The Death (La muerte)	Death/End	This card indicates an ending. It indicates death if next to the Barrel card. It indicates mediumship if next to the Skull card.
15	The Pear (La Pear)	Food	This card represents food in all its variety. It can represent the recipient's diet or a garden. Food bought or grown. It can mean cooking. It can mean hunger.
16	The Flag (La bandera)	Government	This card represents any government or legal issue. It can represent the local or national government, the courts, or any govt agency. Examples, taxes, licenses, jury duty, elections, etc.
17	The Bandolon (El Bandolon)	Play	This card has many meanings. It can simply mean music. It can mean play. It can mean relax. The recipient and surrounding cards will provide the meaning.
18	The Cello (El violoncello)	Discipline	This card indicates that self-discipline is required. This will take time and effort. It can take on-going practice.
19	The Heron (La garza)	New Beginning	This card is like a stork. It represents new beginnings or starting something. It can mean a birth or rebirth.
20	The Bird (El pájaro)	Communication	This card represents any form of communication - talk, mail, email, or IM. It does not indicate the quality or character of the communication.
21	The Hand (La mano)	Help	This card indicates that help is available. The help may be assistance in any form - physical, financial, emotional, etc.
22	The Boot (La bota)	Work	This card generally represents the recipient's job or employment, however, it can also represent any needed form of labor from housecleaning, yardwork, etc.
23	The Moon (La luna)	Spirituality	This card represents any form of spiritual practice. It can represent prayer, meditation, or being spiritual. It can represent faith, church, or religion.
24	The Parrot (El cotorro)	Gossip	This card represents information passed along from another source. Think gossip. The information conveyed may be true or false.
25	The Drunk (El borracho)	Addiction	This card is not PC. It represents over-indulgence, addiction, or severe problematic behavior. It generally represents someone known to the recipient, but can also indicate the recipient.
26	The Negro (El Negrito)	Hard Work	This card is not PC. It represents any form of hard, long, arduous, or undesired labor. It can represent an easy office job if one feels chained to one's desk or forced to work long hours.
27	The Heart (El corazón)	Love	This card represents love in all its forms. It can also represent sex.
28	The Watermelon (La sandía)	Big Business	This card represents big business. It can be the recipient's job, place of business, or a business or store frequented by the recipient. Think of a corporation or Walmart.

29	The Drum (El tambor)	News	This card represents public news. It can be local, national, or international. It is general and not specific to the recipient, but the recipient should take note of it.
30	The Shrimp (El camarón)
31	The Arrows (Las Jaros)	Crossroad	This card represents a choice or decision. The recipient has come to crossroad and need to make a decision. The decision may be simple or have many options.
32	The Musician (El músico)	Party	This card represents a party or gathering. It can be an office happy hour, holiday get-together, family reunion, or grand wedding.
33	The Spider (La araña)	Trap	This card represents a trap. The recipient may be walking into one or in one. It may be emotional, financial, or a scam. Stop struggling and think of a way out.
34	The Soldier (El soldado)	An Official	This card can represent a person who is a soldier, fireman, police officer, or any government representative. It can also represent protection such as a guardian angel.
35	The Star (La estrella)	Hope	This card represents hope. It can also represent faith. It can be realistic or wishful dreaming. It can suggest prayer. All is not lost.
36	The Melting Pot (El cazo)	Building	This card represents any large building where people reside permanently or temporarily. It can mean an apartment building, hospital, dorm, hotel, jail, etc.
37	The World (El mundo)	Opportunity	This card represents that the recipient has many possibilities or opportunities. It is generally a positive card. It can also represent the recipient feels the weight of the world.
38	The Apache (El apache)	Dangerous Person	This card is not PC. It represents a seriously dangerous person. This person may or may not be known to the recipient, but is definitely in their environment.
39	The Cactus (El nopal)	Caution	This card represents caution. The recipient is being warned to proceed with care. A problem can be avoided if handled carefully.
40	The Scorpion (El alacrán)	Danger	It represents serious potential danger. There is danger in the recipient's environment. The recipient can avoid it. Walk away or better yet run. This danger MUST be avoided.
41	The Rose (La rosa)	Passion	This card represents all forms of passion. It can represent a simple attraction to a hot affair. It can represent the driving desire an artist has for painting or the obsession of a collector.
42	The Skull (La calavera)	Paranormal	I use this card to mean mediumship. It can mean the presence of spirits or spirit help. It can also represent any paranormal or unexplained occurrence. The recipient should look for signs.
43	The Bell (La campana)	Take Notice	This card indicates that the recipient is being alerted to something specific. The recipient needs to take notice and address something. This warning may come in the form of a letter or conversation.
44	The Water Pitcher (El cantarito)	Home	This card represents the family home or recipient's residence. This can be an apartment, house, or extended family home. It can also represent the family as a collective unit.
45	The Deer (El venado)	Innocence	This card indicates an innocent or naïve person. It can represent the recipient or a young person setting off innocently into a new situation or someone naïve of a dangerous situation.
46	The Sun (El sol)	Powerful Good	This card represents powerful goodness. It may be needed good news or assistance. It can also represent God or the Divine. Remember to say thank you.
47	The Crown (La corona)	Important	This card represents someone or something important. It can represent a boss or official, a bill that needs paying or summons. Whatever it is, it MUST be acknowledged and addressed.
48	The Canoe (La chalupa)	Travel	This card represents any form of transportation or travel. It can represent a car, train, etc. or a daily commute, business trip, or generic driving, but not a vacation. It can represent car trouble.
49	The Pine (El pino)	Health	This card represents any health related or physical/biological issue.
50	The Fish (El pescado)	Finances	This card represents finances or money. Think GOLDFish. It can represent any financial or money issue from a bill to unexpected check. Can be good or bad.
51	The Palm (La palma)	Vacation	This card represents any travel for fun or relaxation. It can be a trip to the beach or a far off island. Whether this trip will be good or bad depends of the cards around it.
52	The Flower pot (La Maceta)	Gift	This card indicates that the recipient has or will be receiving a gift. It may be a small token, but its meaning is significant and may be just what the 455
53	The Harp (El arpa)	Heaven	This card represents heaven on earth or the Summerland. It can mean retirement or a summer home. Something good after something long or hard. Think the pot of gold at the end of a rainbow.
54	The Frog (La Rana)	Annoyance	This cards indicates an annoyance. It is a small problem. Think a noisy cricket at night or a mouse eating your box of Corn Flakes. It is small, but needs to be addressed or acknowledged.